From Day One of my time as mayor of Memphis, I've pledged to prioritize all of our resources to reduce violent crime. It's a long-term goal and one that encompasses more than simply policing, but there's no doubt that a strong Memphis Police Department is at the core.

Rebuilding MPD staffing has been a major focus in our first two and a half years. Early on, we improved benefit offerings and initiated multi-year pay increases, including bonuses. A $6.1 million grant from the Crime Commission helped our retention efforts. By mid-2017, we started to see the fruits of our increased attention to police recruiting, with the largest graduating recruit class in decades. The two classes that started in 2017 produced our first net annual gain of officers since 2011.

We've stepped up recruiting in 2018, as well as adding a third police recruit class in the 2018-19 budget. Another increase in police spending is part of the budget, as are more video cameras that people in our neighborhoods want. Under the leadership of Director Michael W. Rallings, MPD is getting stronger and stronger every day.

While we can accomplish much with funding and policy, we know the great work of the MPD is being performed on the ground every single day with the good men and women of our department. I truly appreciate all that MPD does to improve the quality of life for all Memphians, every single day.

Mayor, City of Memphis

It is with great honor that on behalf of the men and women of the Memphis Police Department I present the Memphis Police Department's 2017 Annual Report. As the Director of Police Services, I want to begin by expressing my gratitude to all employees of the MPD. On a daily basis, each of our employees encounters challenges that others will never understand; however, through it all, they remain focused and persistent in their efforts of keeping the citizens of Memphis safe. The continued effort, hard work, and commitment that is continuously displayed by the men and women of this great department are bar none. The dedication and tireless hours devoted, time away from family and friends, and the unwavering commitment to serve and protect are truly appreciated. Without the perseverance and determination set forth by each employee, our department could not remain to be one of the greatest in our Nation.

Also, I would be remiss if I did not express my gratitude to the citizens of Memphis. Throughout 2017, the MPD experienced a number of challenges. On any given day, our employees may receive accolades, be ridiculed or chastised, save a life, be physically assaulted, or ultimately lose their life in the line of duty. Throughout it all, the support that has been displayed by the citizens of Memphis is overwhelming. The citizens of Memphis should know that their continued support is very much appreciated.

In 2017, our recruiting efforts showed a drastic improvement from years past by hiring and graduating over 100 new officers. In addition, 51 Police Service Technicians were added to our complement which allowed officers more time to focus on high priority calls. Investigative Services created a new Violent Crimes Unit that has been instrumental as a stand-alone unit and has also strengthened collaboration by providing support efforts to various units within the department. The Real Time Crime Center completed the implementation of body-worn cameras to all uniform patrol officers and deployed additional in-car camera video, bringing us to over 400 fully-equipped squad cars. I have mentioned only a few things that were accomplished throughout 2017; however, by reviewing this annual report, you will have a more in-depth understanding of some of the great things that employees of the Memphis Police Department do on a daily basis.

In 2016, I vowed to lead the men and women of the Memphis Police Department and provide the highest quality of police services to all persons within the City of Memphis. Today, I stand by my promise. MPD will continue to work diligently to protect and service the citizens of Memphis. We will continue to answer calls for service. We will continue to build upon our community policing initiative. We will continue to be proactive while on patrol. We will continue to go into harm's way, and we will continue to seek out those who choose to violate the law. In doing this, I only ask one thing of the citizens of Memphis. I ask that all Memphians continue to support the Memphis Police Department and its employees. Together, we can overcome all obstacles and ensure that the City of Memphis continues to flourish and be the great city that we all know and love.

Sincerely,

Director Michael W. Rallings

Inspectional Services

Inspectional Services is made up of the Internal Affairs Squad and the Security Squad. Inspectional Services conducts all internal investigations involving police personnel, as well as, other sensitive investigations. Officers assigned to these units are appointed by the Director of Police and are considered to be highly experienced investigators.

In 1996, the offices of Internal Affairs and Security Squad were relocated to the 100 North Main building, Suite 2220, in downtown Memphis.

In December of 2006, IAB and Security Squad were moved once again to the corner of Poplar and Union Extended.

Purpose of Internal Affairs

The purpose of the Internal Affairs Squad is to define responsibilities and establish procedures for sworn members of this department for dealing with observed or reported allegations of misconduct.

Internal Affairs investigates all complaints lodged against police personnel. These complaints can range from verbal abuse to brutality. The majority of these complaints fall under three categories: Personal Conduct, Use of Force and Arrest, and Duty Performance.

Purpose of Security Squad

The Security Squad investigates all shooting incidents involving police officers and any complaints regarding possible criminal misconduct against employees. These investigations include accusations against officers, city employees from various departments, and other administrative investigations.

The Security Squad is also responsible for teaching Deadly Force lectures at the Training Academy for new police recruits and during In-Service Training for veteran officers. Their Deadly Force lecture is also part of the training received by all citizens enrolled in the Citizen's Police Academy.

2017 Accomplishments

The Memphis Police Department deployed new and updated technologies to meet or exceed current standards. The department added strategic staffing to increase the utilization of technology.

- Memphis Police Department (MPD) fully executed contract# 34572 not to exceed $53,939,510.00 on 9/27/2017 between City of Memphis and Motorola Solutions for replacement of the Countywide Radio System to the new P25 communication system. The discounted contract also included a full deployment of the Motorola Intelligence-Led Public Safety (ILPS) Solutions. The ILPS system is a force multiplier to help transform data into actionable intelligence for faster decision-making through a common operating picture for real-time situational awareness and rapid response.
- Purchased and deployed a storage area network (SAN).
- Purchased and deployed new workstations for the Real Time Crime Center (RTCC) to replace end of life workstations.
- Purchased and deployed four video streaming servers
- Purchased and deployed “MondoPad” computer processing units (cpu) to replace end of life “MondoPads”.
- Purchase and deployment of 300 mobile printers for eTicketing. These printers, in conjunction with PDA’s, will allow officers to issue moving/non-moving citations, misdemeanor citations, and tow tickets.
- Completed installation of in car video system in 64 vehicles and working throughout the calendar year to complete an additional 289 vehicles.
- Deployment of 20 ICV/LPR hybrid (total of 30 readers) The LPR system also includes 5 Pole Cameras (total of 20 cameras)
- Deployed Body Worn Cameras with over 1,582 cameras in use.
- Established a Digital Forensics Computer and Cell Phone Lab within the RTCC. The forensics lab has often worked cases that include stalking, homicides, suicides, DOAs, Aggravated Assaults, and burglaries, among others. The lab is involved in the collection and analysis of digital media including computers, cell phones, digital cameras, digital storage devices, thumb-drives and other technological devices for evidence pertaining to a variety of cases which include: (1) Use of electronic devices to commit or facilitate a crime., (2) Any crime outlined in Tennessee State Statute or computer crimes defined by the federal code., (3) Perform forensic analysis of digital evidence in felony cases where evidence or information pertinent to an investigation may be stored., (4) Provide technical assistance and guidance in the proper safeguarding and collection of evidence stored in electronic form.
- Continued project expansion of the GPS Tracking Bracelets for sexual assault offenders and domestic violence offenders. 372 GPS devices are actively being monitored and over 1,650 people cycled through the program.

- Increased the number of cameras deployed throughout the city to over 1500. This included cameras donated by several homeowner associations and 70 additional cameras deployed as part of the Sentinel Camera Project Phase II. The second phase in the Sentinel Program put 30 cameras in each of the 7 City Council Districts in high crime areas.
- Addition of Information Technology Manager to help evaluate and suggest new technologies, implement economically viable solutions for operational needs, and help manage contract negotiations for the Memphis Police Department.
- Expansion of Real Time Crime Center addition of 10 Fulltime Video Analyst.
- Increased part time civilian video analysts to 17 to process requests for videos.
- The Crime Analysis Unit (CAU) will initiate conversation with the Memphis Police Department’s Training Academy about the possibility of teaching a block of instructional materials during the 2018 IST. Topics will be (Blue CRUSH Initiative Remedial Training and CAU & RTCC Operations). The CAU is hoping to have at least half of its staff obtain certification as Certified Crime & Intelligence Analysis (CCIA) through the Alpha Group. The certification process allows MPD to host three (3) core classes and one (1) online research and methods course offered by the Alpha Group. Some registration fees are waived for MPD analysts if certain paid registrations numbers are met. The CAU will seek to bring staffing up to full complements. We hope to hire two (2) Sr. Crime Analysts, one (1) Crime Analyst, and one (1) additional Programmer Analyst during this year. The CAU hope to assign one (1) civilian crime analyst to the C-shift as a permanent full-time position. This should assist the now all commissioned analyst staff with the analytical and data request that come in. The CAU is in the process of hosting the 2017 Tennessee Association of Law Enforcement Analyst Training Conference (TALEA), October 4th, 5th, & 6th, 2017.
